

Dear CBA South-East members,

Happy New Year! Hopefully everyone has had an enjoyable and relaxing Christmas break, and are not finding the back-to-work grind too arduous this week. We are looking forward to seeing many of our members at our forthcoming 2018 Workshop Training Series in Leatherhead this winter, starting with the LiDAR session led by Krystyna Truscoe. Although this is fully booked, there are still spots available on the coins session (led by David Rudling) in February and March, and the ceramic building material one (led by Ian Betts of MOLA) in April. Please do book soon for these courses (form and full details available on <http://www.cbасouth-east.org/events/cbase-workshops-and-training-days/>) before they fill-up.

We hope many of you enjoyed our 25th Anniversary Conference, and are hoping the 2018 Annual Conference and AGM in Chertsey on 'Structured Deposits: definitions, developments and debates' is as successful – please do save the date (Saturday 10th November, 2018). By the time of our next spring newsletter, we hope to have more details of the speakers lined-up, as well as on our 2018 tours. If you have any requests for venues or projects to visit, please do get in touch. In the meantime, best wishes for the new year!

Lidar Dayschool

Led by Krystyna Truscoe (University of Reading), this course examines the use of lidar for archaeological projects. It will provide an introduction to the use of lidar: what it is, how to get hold of it and how to interpret it. Production of different visualisations of lidar data and their advantages or disadvantages for interpretation will also be covered.

(This event is now fully booked)

Saturday 10th February 2018

Coin Dayschool 1: The origins of 'coinage' and 'Celtic and Roman coins in Britain'

Led by David Rudling (Sussex School of Archaeology) this dayschool will start by examining the development of coins and primitive currencies in different parts of the world. Then, participants will look in more detail at the coins and other currencies used in Britain during the Late Iron Age and Roman periods. By the end of the session they should be familiar with the main sequences of coin types for these periods.

CBA-SE events

Saturday 24th March 2018

Coin Dayschool 2: Saxon, medieval and post-medieval coins, tokens and jetons in England

Led by David Rudling this follow-on dayschool will continue the examination of the development of coinage in Britain. Participants will also examine the issuing of private tokens and briefly review the use of jetons. By the end of the session participants should be familiar with the main sequences of coin, token and jeton types.

Saturday 21st April 2018

Ceramic Building Material Dayschool

Led by Ian Betts (MOLA), this course will cover the main types of building material used in south-east England during the Roman, medieval and post-medieval periods. The day will consist of presentations, followed by 'question and answer' and 'show and tell' sections.

Details from: info@kafs.co.uk

The Home Front Legacy project is coordinated by the Council for British Archaeology and helps local communities find out about, and map, the remains of the First World War, raising awareness of the wide range of archaeology that survives across the UK.

By recording sites you are making a valuable contribution to the archaeological record and ensuring that the story of these sites is preserved for future generations. There are a number of ways you can get involved and encourage your members to take part:

- Have a look at the website <http://www.homefrontlegacy.org.uk/wp/> and see what has already been recorded near you
- Host a Home Front Legacy meeting to work through the training guide together, go on a site visit, or carry out some desk based research to find out about sites you could record in your local area
- Work with your local branch of the Young Archaeologists Club using resources for young people
- Share information about the project with your members and encourage them to get involved via your newsletters and social media

Please email any events, talks, recent publications relevant to the south-east, or fieldwork opportunities to events@cbasouth-east.org

Next e-letter will be issued approximately on March 1st– please send any January, February or March info by February 25th.
