

The Sussex Landscape Transformed: an overview

Saturday 14th October 2023, Lewes, East Sussex

09.15-09.50am	REGISTRATION	Tea or Coffee, bookstalls and stands
09.50-10.00am	Dr Sue Berry	Morning Chairperson's Welcome & Introduction
10.00-10.40am	Dr Jon Baczkowski	Two millennia of change: Sussex through the Neolithic
10.40-11.20am	Dr Judie English	The development of field systems, settlements and enclosures during the Later Bronze Age and the Iron Age in Sussex
11.20-11.45am	COFFEE & BISCUITS	Visit the bookstalls & stands
11.45-12.20pm	Dr David Rudling	The Impact of Rome
12.20-1.00pm	Dr Marc Morris (online)	The Impact of the Norman Conquest on Anglo-Saxon England
1.00-2.00pm	LUNCH BREAK	Visit the bookstalls and stands
2.00-2.40pm	Dr Caroline Adams	The memory of the people – Changing Manorial Landscape in Sussex in the early modern period
2.40-3.20pm	Dr Sue Berry	The transformation by the Georgians and Victorians of the urban and rural landscape of Sussex
3.20-3.40pm	TEA AND BISCUITS	Visit the bookstalls and stands
3.40-4.20pm	Dr Geoffrey Mead	'Scattered squalor', 'Downland Homes', and counter-urbanisation: a century or more of societal change
4.20-4.40pm	Dr David Rudling (afternoon Chair)	Questions to the speakers, Thanks, and Closure

Symposium fee for the day is £30 (£20 concessions*) for attendance in person, or £15 online

For those attending in person, the fee includes coffee/tea at the start of the day and during the morning and afternoon breaks.

*(full-time and award-bearing students)

Further details on the talks and the speakers can be found on our website

Click here to book via Eventbrite